

Executive Director

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

La Plata Open Space Conservancy (LPOSC) is a Durango-based nonprofit land trust serving La Plata County, Colorado and portions of four other southwest Colorado counties. Since 1992, LPOSC has partnered with approximately 180 landowners and local governments to permanently protect nearly 25,000 acres of land. LPOSC's mission is to permanently protect open lands that have significant agricultural, wildlife habitat, open space, recreational and/or historical/archaeological resources, for the benefit of the community and the general public.

POSITION DESCRIPTION

The Executive Director is responsible for all aspects of LPOSC's business operations including day to day functions, stewardship, fundraising, and management of the organization. The Executive Director facilitates easement and land protection acquisitions, functions as the primary spokesperson for LPOSC, ensures Land Trust Alliance (LTA) Standards and Practices and LPOSC policies are implemented or satisfied in all aspects of LPOSC's operations, develops and tracks annual budgets, and is actively involved in fundraising and community outreach. The Executive Director is responsible for the supervision of LPOSC Staff and contractors and develops strategic work plans, priorities, and goals for these positions in support of LPOSC's Mission. The Executive Director routinely reports to the Board of Directors, ensures the financial health of the organization, maintains LPOSC accredited status by LTA's Accreditation Commission and provides leadership and technical support to the Board and Staff. The Executive Director displays high standards of professionalism, cooperation, and integrity. In addition, the Executive Director is an integral and active community member who recruits, cultivates, and maintains effective and positive relationships with landowners, supporters, volunteers and members of the community. The Executive Director also works effectively and collaboratively with the volunteer Board of Directors, who are connected community members and professionals, to achieve LPOSC's Mission.

The Executive Director is a full-time position, who at the direction of the Board of Directors and with input from other LPOSC Staff, works to identify, develop, and implement land conservation, stewardship, outreach, and fundraising strategies to accomplish annual revenue and strategic program goals established by the Board. The ideal candidate is experienced in land conservation, with a portfolio of experience demonstrating successful activities and campaigns to secure conservation easements, cultivate donor relationships, manage a non-profit organization, and bring enthusiasm and creativity to all aspects of the organization.
